

AUTERO LARGE ROUND MIRROR

ARTERIORS

A cousin to the rectangular Autero Mirror (DD2004) this round mirror is held by a spike that appears to have been hammered into the wall. However the piece is actually suspended from a cleat on the mirror's back so it is purely decorative. The iron frame has intensely etched texturing and is finished in burnt wax surrounding a flat mirror. Barry suggests using two over the double vanity in the master bathroom. Also available in a smaller version (DD2615).
